osamu asks atsumu to try his onigiri when he thinks he's finally got the recipe perfected. it's a peace offering after their fight over osamu quitting volleyball. atsumu bites into the onigiri, stills, and then tells osamu very seriously that he would marry this onigiri.

"ya can't marry it, 'tsumu, you're almost done eating it," osamu says, laughing.

"too late, 'samu, i already have. you're looking at Onigiri Miya-san, now. i've married my first love," atsumu says.

years later, a restaurant opens under the name of atsumu's first love.
