

MiiRa

@talesofBharat

06-11-2020

06:07

-
- Mughal made us Rich
  - Concept of India as a country was 1st established by Mughals
  - World know us coz of Mughals

This idea have been slowly entrenched in our mind to the extent that Hindus today is going through Historic amnesia of their own glorious past.

#Thread

Entire world today doesnt know much about India beyond Mughal Raj & Taj Mahal barely acquainted with the root culture of India.

Here's an example of how this world view is getting ingrained:

I googled #IncredibleIndia & here are a few images that popped up.

++

Apparently a patriotic image with #Indianflag . Now jus check the monuments in the letters.

- Qutub Minar
- Taj Mahal
- CharMinar
- Red fort
- Lotus temple

++

So every thing that is incredible in India is credited to Mughals.

Lotus temple might have a temple in its name but let's see what is exactly #Lotustemple "A space for all religion to gather & worship" thus embedding #Secularism . Not a single Hindu Monuments in 5 letters.

Lotus Temple

The Lotus Temple, located in Delhi, India, is a Bahá'í House of Worship that was dedicated in December 1986.<sup>[1]</sup> Notable for its flowerlike shape, it has become a prominent attraction in the city. Like all Bahá'í Houses of Worship, the Lotus Temple is open to all, regardless of religion or any other qualification.

Lotus Temple

The Lotus Temple, located in Delhi, India, is a Bahá'í House of Worship that was dedicated in December 1986.<sup>[1]</sup> Notable for its flowerlike shape, it has become a prominent attraction in the city. Like all Bahá'í Houses of Worship, the Lotus Temple is open to all, regardless of religion or any other qualification.

^ Worship

The Bahá'í Faith teaches that a Bahá'í House of Worship should be a space for people of all religions to gather, reflect, and worship.<sup>[6]</sup> Anyone may enter the Lotus Temple irrespective of religious background, sex, or other distinctions, as is the case with all Bahá'í houses of worship.<sup>[6]</sup> The sacred writings of not only the Bahá'í faith but also other religions can be read and/or chanted, regardless of language;<sup>[6]</sup> on the other hand, reading nonscriptural texts is forbidden, as are delivering sermons or lectures, or fund-raising. Musical renditions of readings and prayers can be sung by choirs, but no musical instruments can be played inside. There is no set pattern for worship services, and ritualistic ceremonies are not permitted.<sup>[6]</sup>

Lotus Temple

The Lotus Temple, located in Delhi, India, is a Bahá'í House of Worship that was dedicated in December 1986.<sup>[1]</sup> Notable for its flowerlike shape, it has become a prominent attraction in the city. Like all Bahá'í Houses of Worship, the Lotus Temple is open to all, regardless of religion or any other qualification.

^ Worship

The Bahá'í Faith teaches that a Bahá'í House of Worship should be a space for people of all religions to gather, reflect, and worship.<sup>[6]</sup> Anyone may enter the Lotus Temple irrespective of religious background, sex, or other distinctions, as is the case with all Bahá'í houses of worship.<sup>[6]</sup> The sacred writings of not only the Bahá'í faith but also other religions can be read and/or chanted, regardless of language;<sup>[6]</sup> on the other hand, reading nonscriptural texts is forbidden, as are delivering sermons or lectures, or fund-raising. Musical renditions of readings and prayers can be sung by choirs, but no musical instruments can be played inside. There is no set pattern for worship services, and ritualistic ceremonies are not permitted.<sup>[6]</sup>

Bahá'í Faith

This article is about the global religious community. For other related uses, see Bahai \(disambiguation\).

The Bahá'í Faith (/bəˈhɑːiː, bəˈhɑː/; Persian: بهائی Bahā'ī) is a new religion teaching the essential worth of all religions, and the unity of all people.<sup>[1]</sup> Established by Bahá'u'lláh in the 19th century, it initially grew in Persia and parts of the Middle East, where it has faced ongoing persecution since its inception.<sup>[2]</sup> It is estimated to have over five million adherents, known as Bahá'ís, spread throughout most of the world's countries and territories.<sup>[3]</sup>

Some more images of @incredibleindia.All these images depicts M0sques. Barely a single depiction of Hindu place of worship anywhere. Max Indic touch u can see are a few of our dance forms.

If a country is still 80% Hindu shouldn't 80% of this images have Hindu touch for fair representation of Bharat Varsh to the entire world?

Look at this image now. A promotion of Maharashtra also has #TajMahal in it 😏😏

Is Taj Mahal located in Maharashtra?

Or does @incredibleindia perceive Maharashtra has nothing worthwhile of its own heritage to get a notable place in it's promotion?

@incredibleindia is the name of an international tourism campaign maintained by the Govt. Of India to promote tourism in India.

Does the @tourismgoi wants to project India's image to the world only through its invaders whitewashing it's Indic roots?

-an ardent traveler

Tivitiko - The most beautiful shape of tweets!

Continue to read: <https://tivitiko.herokuapp.com/thread/s4bUtx.html>